HOME OFFICE EXPENSE DEDUCTION

The Canada Revenue Agency has released detailed guidance on the home office expense deduction that employees can claim on their 2021 personal income tax return.

For 2021, there will be two alternate methods by which employees may be able to claim home office expenses:

- The new “temporary flat rate method,” which provides a deduction of $2 per workday at home (to a maximum of $500); and
- The “detailed method,” which is similar to the existing deduction for home office expenses, except that the category of eligible expenses has been expanded to include home internet access fees.

Temporary Flat Rate Method

Under the temporary flat rate method, Form T2200, Declaration of Conditions of Employment will not be required for employees to claim a deduction.

In order to qualify under the temporary flat rate method, you must meet ALL of the following conditions:

- You worked from home in 2021 due to the COVID-19 pandemic
- You worked more than 50% of the time from home for a period of at least four consecutive weeks in 2021
- You are only claiming home office expenses and are not claiming any other employment expenses
- Your employer did not reimburse you for all of your home office expenses

Work days include part-time or full-time days. Work days do not include days off, vacation days, sick leave days or other leaves or absences. No supporting documents will be required other than information to substantiate the days you worked from home.

Number of days you worked from home during the COVID-19 pandemic x $2 = $ (maximum $500)

Detailed Method

Under the detailed method, a simplified version of Form T2200 will be required (T2200S).

The simplified version can be found here - <https://www.canada.ca/en/revenue-agency/services/forms-publications/forms/t2200s.html>

In order to qualify under the detailed method, you must meet ALL of the following conditions:

- you worked from home in 2021 due to the COVID-19 pandemic or your employer required you to work from home
- You worked more than 50% of the time from home for a period of at least four consecutive weeks in 2021
- have a completed and signed Form T2200S or Form T2200 from your employer
- the expenses are used directly in your work during the period

To calculate the home office expenses deduction under the detailed method, we will need the following information:

Office Supplies (postage, stationary, ink, toner, pens, folders, etc.)¹ $ _____ (A)

You cannot claim any of the following:

- Depreciation (CCA), mortgage payments, or interest
- Capital expenses (replacing windows, flooring, furnace, etc.)
- Office equipment (printer, fax, briefcase, cell phone, computer, laptop, tablet, television, smart speaker, voice assistant etc.)
- Computer accessories (monitor, mouse, keyboard, headset, speakers, webcam, router, etc.)
- Furniture (desk, chair, etc.)
- Monthly basic rate for a landline telephone

Employment use of a basic cell phone plan (% of total), plus long-distance fees $ _____ (B)

Employment use of home internet costs (% of total) $ _____ (C)

Total size of your work space² _____ (D)

Total size of your home³ _____ (E)

If the work space is a common or shared area (e.g., a dining room table), the number of hours worked during a week. Enter 168 hours⁴ if a designated⁵ room _____ (F)

Heat $ _____

Electricity $ _____

Water $ _____

Rent $ _____

Maintenance (minor repairs, light bulbs, paint, etc.) $ _____

Insurance (commission employees only) $ _____

Property taxes (commission employees only) $ _____

Total $ _____ x D/E x F/168 = $ _____ (G)

Total home office expense deduction = (A + B + C + G) $ _____

For more information, visit CRA's page

¹ Do not include amounts that were reimbursed by your employer.

² Measured in square feet or square metres. If you have an open concept design, you would use a reasonable percentage of the open space as your work space. You cannot use the entire floor space as your work space.

³ All finished areas within the home count towards the size of the home including hallways, bathrooms, and kitchen.

⁴ 24 hours per day x 7 days = 168 hours

⁵ A designated room is used only for your work (for example, a spare room)
